

This certificate recognizes that

Russell Welsh

Completed the All-Hazards Communications Technician (COMT) Course
June 20-24, 2011

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Chris Essid".

Chris Essid
Director
Office of Emergency Communications
National Protection and Programs Directorate
U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Homeland Security

May 24, 2010

Congratulations on completing the All-Hazards Communications Technician (COMT) course sponsored by the Department of Homeland Security Office of Emergency Communications (OEC). The COMT course was developed by practitioners of public safety disciplines from across the country to promote interoperability. To that end, OEC has adopted practitioners' recommendations and now, to be considered a COMT, students of the course must meet all course prerequisites.

Additionally, they must document their experience by completing a Task Book and have the Task Book signed by an authority having jurisdiction – an Incident Commander, a certified COML, or the head of the agency having jurisdiction over the incident or event where the COMT served

A copy of the COMT certificate will be mailed to the State Administrative Agency. OEC recommends students assemble a packet documenting their qualifications, comprised of:

- The COMT class certificate of completion;
- The signed Task Book; and,
- Copies of all prerequisite class certificates of completion.

As States put their certification and credentialing processes in place for the COMTs, students of the classes will then be better prepared to meet their States' requirements.

Thank you for your participation in the class and your efforts to further public safety interoperability.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink that appears to read "Chris Essid".
Chris Essid
Director
Office of Emergency Communications

Enclosure (1)

A large, stylized graphic in blue ink, resembling the letters "DU" and "S" intertwined, is positioned in the bottom left corner of the page.

Georgia Emergency Management Agency

hereby certifies that

Russell Welsh

has attended

Communications Technician

Course Hours: 40

Completed June 24, 2011

Russell Welsh
Director

Endy Moore
Course Coordinator